Not every friendship is a healthy friendship. In fact, sometimes your friend might really be a bully masquerading as your friend, especially if they are trying to control and manipulate you. While this can be painful to recognize, don't feel bad if you discover this is your situation.

6 Signs of a Controlling Friend - Verywell Family

Bullying can be faceless and consequently, you may or may not know you are being bullied. For this reason, being bullied by someone you consider a friend can be a real blind spot for most of us; it's harder to detect, subtle in nature and can take a while to get our attention. After all, they're a friend - right?

1. Don't linger on what you "should have said.". When you're laying in bed at 3am, wrestling with that "I should have said.." ghost, remember that if that person were really your friend, it wouldn't have mattered what you said or could have said. They wouldn't have tried to intentionally hurt you in the first place.

Help your students live more balanced and peaceful lives with Healthy Mind - Happy Me Book 2. This title is the second book in a two-part series. Studies show that mental illness - depression in particular - is one of the top five chronic diseases in Australia. Treatment requires large amounts of resources and is estimated to consume 6.83 billion dollars annually; approximately 8.6% of the total allocated health expenditure in Australia. The number of young children affected by mental illness is on the rise, and this is why Healthy Mind - Happy Me is such an important resource for any classroom in Australia. The activities in this BLM will help your students to live more balanced and peaceful lives by assisting them to: develop resilience, understand their emotions, enhance their emotional intelligence and manage and nurture positive relationships. Purchase this book today to start making a difference to your students' mindfulness. Healthy Mind - Happy Me Book 2 caters for year 3 - year 6 primary levels

Social media is a fun way to stay connected with friends and family, but it can also be a way to be connected with cyberbullies. Cyberbullies can make life miserable. This book teaches you how to protect yourself and how to stop a cyberbully.

The second edition of this bestselling book is designed for mental health professionals, educators, and the parent/caregiver, this book provides specific ideas and techniques to work with children in various areas of complicated grief. It presents words and methods to help initiate discussions of these delicate topics, as well as tools to help children understand and separate complicated grief into parts. These parts in turn can be grieved for and released one at a time. A new chapter is included, called "Communities Grieve: Involvement with Children and Trauma." It includes information on The Taiwan Earthquake and how the community worked with children, a school bus accident in which 36 elementary school children witnessed the death of the bus driver that was driving and how the school system worked with these children and their families; a boy who was running on a cross country team and got hit by a car, which was witnessed by teammates; and how a non-profit community grief agency worked with family, school, and community. The last study is from the Oklahoma bombing and the outgrowth of a place for the traumatized children and how they still work with kids and family today. This chapter then contains new activities to work with traumatized grieving children. The new edition also includes updated resources, books, curriculums, websites, hotlines and another new chapter on bullying and victimization issues. The chapter for educators has been expanded, including the coverage of topics such as at-risk students, gay and lesbian issues, and self-injurious behaviors.

In Activities for Building Character and Social-Emotional Learning, hundreds of user-friendly lesson plans help teachers build attitudes of respect and caring, reduce problem behaviors, empower students to solve problems, and educate the whole child socially, emotionally, and academically. The lessons' literature-based connections allow teachers to 'build in' rather than 'add on' social-emotional learning (SEL) as part of the daily curriculum. The four teacher resources in the Safe & Caring Schools® series can also be implemented as a schoolwide preK-8 program.

We each have our own unique life story which make us special. When you are adopted you have an extra layer of identity - your birth family. This therapeutic workbook is designed to be used with adopted children aged 5-11, and offers a gentle way to explore this difficult subject.

For children who are adopted families can get complicated, and that's very true when it comes to brothers and sisters, or 'siblings'. Today The Adoption Club are exploring the confusing world of siblings. Some children have half-siblings, adopted siblings, step-siblings. Michael has a birth sibling, his sister Angela, who he lives with, but many other children who are adopted are separated from their brother or sisters. The Adoption Club talk about their feelings about their own siblings. Written for counsellors and therapists working with children aged 5-11, as well as adoptive parents, this workbook is designed to help explore sibling relationships. It is one of a set of five interactive therapeutic workbooks featuring The Adoption Club written to address the key emotional and psychological challenges adopted children often experience. Together, they provide an approachable, interactive and playful way to help children to learn about themselves and have fun at the same time.

The children of The Adoption Club have lots of different feelings about adoption. Michael was scared when he first met this adopted family, and was worried his adoptive family might not keep him. Other children talk about feeling happy, sad and angry, and how feeling can make them behave strangely. This workbook gives children a way to sort out feelings, discuss them and feel better. Written for counsellors and therapists working with children aged 5-11, as well as adoptive parents, this workbook is designed to help children to explore their
