The book is (annoyingly, not endearingly) repetitive, and the story lacks charm, whimsy, and imagination ("There was a little tiger / that loves to play./ He would run and wrestle, / and play all day."). The turtle says goodnight to a random assortment of animals, then reads a story about a tiger going to bed, then goes to bed himself.

Nani the Green turtle discovers her courage when her friend Lono becomes entangled in plastic netting.

Baby Turtle hatches the day after the rest of his siblings and must get to the water and his family and makes new friends, who help him find his way. On board pages.

Little Turtle Gets his Wish is a story about a young turtle who wishes every day for a home like his friends, one where he can play and have occasional sleepovers. Mama Turtle reminds him he has a fine home and should be content. "Don't keep wishing for something you already have," she says, but Little Turtle is still not satisfied. One day, he tells Mama Turtle, "I need to go look for my home." She sighs, since she is heard this so many times, but agrees he may go if he's back by suppertime. He waves goodbye and sets out to find his perfect home, promising to be home in time for some of her homemade Shoo Fly Pie. Along the way, he meets new animal friends, wondering if each one's home is right for him. Unfortunately, he is disappointed with their responses, and becomes more and more discouraged. It has been a long trip, especially for a turtle, he thinks. Just as he is about to give up, he gets some surprise advice that makes him stop and think. Can it be that little Turtle has at last found his home sweet home?

Limu was different than all the other Hawaiian sea turtles - he was blue! But while other turtles made fun of him, Limu still had fun growing up in the sea, bodysurfing the big waves, laughing with seals and making friends big and small. Follow Limu's adventures, as he discovers that no matter what he looks like on the outside, others like him because of the good turtle he is on the inside.

A young boy goes everywhere and does everything with his toy turtle, including the sandbox, the slide, the car, and bed. On board pages.

An irresistibly cute story about finding the confidence to be yourself, starring a turtle in search of the perfect shell. Terrance the turtle was born without a shell, so he uses a cardboard box instead. Terrance loves his box. It keeps him dry on soggy days, safe from snooping strangers, and is big enough to cozy up with a friend. But when another turtle points out that Terrance's shell is, well, weird, he begins to wonder whether there might be a better shell out there... Eventually, and through much trial and error, Terrance learns that there's nothing wrong with being different--especially when it comes to being yourself.

A beautiful, lyrical story which explores the problem of plastic in the ocean, and the challenges facing marine life. Little Turtle loves the ocean with her whole heart. As the years pass, she repeats an incredible journey across the world to the beautiful coral reefs. But one day she finds that plastic has invaded her beloved ocean. Could Turtle's journey be over forever?
