from a variety of perspectives and includes papers from some of the most influential curriculum theorists over the last thirty years. Part Two explores the framing of new orders of educational experience. It has papers from leading educational thinkers who have contributed to debates about how to make education more inclusive, humane, liberating, creative and educational. Part Three is focused on teachers and teaching. It offers a selection of papers from significant scholars in the field reflecting on the experience of teaching and how it is

Most teachers have experienced some kind of formal mentoring or induction program. What these programs can miss is the meaningful daily interaction with peers that builds mutual trust and instructional collaboration-the organic, coachable moments that boost professional learning. Based on a unique investigative study of nearly 300 teachers, this powerful new resource provides informative teacher perspectives of informal, naturally occurring, teacher-to-teacher professional development. Each contributing author was asked to comprehensively review the research literature in their assigned topic.

These topics, however, are defined by practical places on the landscape e.g. schools and governmental policies for schools. Key Features:

- o Presents a different vision or re-conceptualization of the field
- o Provides a comprehensive and inclusive set of authors, ideas, and topics
- o Takes a global rather than North American parochial approach
- o Recognizes that curriculum and instruction is broader in scope than is suggested by university research and theory
- o Reflects post-1992 changes in curriculum policy, practice and scholarship
- o Represents a rethinking of how school subject matter areas are treated. Teacher education is included in the Handbook with the
