Ten stories from the heart of Bosnia, written in the great tradition of Edgar Allan Poe. The titles of these stories are usually comprised of one word, but with this word the author leads us directly to the heart of the protagonists, and we stay there permanently Cover photo: Nihad Arnautovic

For the first time in her life, the Spring Fairy didn't dance with her sisters at The Fairies' Threshing Floor... Illustrations: Sanela Husic-Musabasic

Philadelphia firefighter and bartender Joey Novak experiences a life-changing experience when he discovers an old suitcase holding the lost gold presented to the Christ Child by the Three Kings. In a materialistic, seemingly uncaring world, this everyday father and husband learns he has been selected as the next Keeper of the Coins. His job: to share his newfound riches and powers with the desperate and needy who will cross his path. With the help of an ornery, impatient mentor, Joey Novak eventually learns, and lives, the wisdom of the proverb: It is better to give than to receive.

A moving and compelling true story about two sisters fighting for survival in Sarajevo during the Bosnian war
